

Exportmaster

PARTNER FACTSHEET

EXPORT DOCUMENTS AND ADMINISTRATION

Export document production, full export management facilities or a total international trading system - however specific or general your requirement, there's an Exportmaster package that will match it precisely. Three packages are offered to suit operational requirements: Exportmaster ShipShape for documentation, Exportmaster Professional for more comprehensive export management and Exportmaster TOPS for a complete international trading system.

The packages are modular with a high degree of configurability and all can be either used stand-alone or integrated with corporate business systems.

The software is designed to improve every stage of the export business process. It delivers efficiency, operational effectiveness, enhanced customer service and competitive advantage. Integrated with SYSPRO or working stand-alone, Exportmaster can address every aspect of your export activity.

The Benefits of Exportmaster

- Cost: Gains and savings made by more efficient administration and shipping, enhanced selling activities, better pricing and more effective cost control
- Time: Free up the time of key staff for value-adding customer-oriented activities
- Image: Consistent, professional export documentation
- Operational: The benefits to company and staff of a better way of handling export administration
- Competitive advantage: A company using an Exportmaster system is better placed to respond effectively to clients requirements and to deliver a higher quality of customer service.
