CATALOGUE ORDERING FOR REPS

PixSell - the iPad catalogue and ordering app.

Every sales representative would work more efficiently if they had access to updated customer account information, could omit the daily admin and leave the heavy catalogues behind. Your head office staff could breathe a sigh of relief as the phone calls requesting stock levels disappear and orders are electronically imported into the back office system with no intervention required. With PixSell, this is a reality for both mobile sales teams and head office and reassurance that reps are fully equipped to sell.
